ROYAL SOCIETY OF CHEMISTRY

Your chemistry bolstered by membership

The Royal Society of Chemistry supports and represents chemical scientists around the world. We believe what you're doing is important, and we want to help you make a difference.

Becoming a member connects you to the resources and community you need to thrive, no matter your career stage.

Join in | Access the right support

Membership includes...

Careers and professional development

- One-to-one careers consultations, CV checks and careers webinars
- Professional development tracking with RSC Pathfinder
- Professional awards and post-nominal letters
- Mentoring with established RSC members

Opportunities to network, travel and connect

- Travel grants, conference bursaries and discounts
- Interest groups, communities and local sections to connect you with like-minded people
- Funding to organise your own events and outreach activities
- Grants for collaborative and independent research

An abundance of knowledge and resources

- Free article downloads from our range of high quality journals
- Unlimited access to news, research and opinions from Chemistry World
- Newsletters, magazines and our online library to keep you informed
- Discounts on RSC books and RSC-approved training courses

Support for every part of life as a chemist

- Chemists' Community Fund: help with everything from everyday challenges to exceptional circumstances
- Grants for inclusion & diversity, assistance and carers
- A huge range of savings on shopping, entertainment, insurance and more
- Influence on our policy work to support fellow chemists

Find out more and start your membership at rsc.li/join

ROYAL SOCIETY OF CHEMISTRY